Charlie Pye

BSc, DVM, DVSc, Dipl. ACVD

Dr. Charlie Pye received her Doctorate of Veterinary Medicine from the Atlantic Veterinary College. She then moved to Saskatoon for a rotating internship at the Western College of Veterinary Medicine. Following her internship, she travelled back for a Dermatology Residency at the Ontario Veterinary College. While at OVC, she also completed her Doctorate of Veterinary Science degree specializing in bacterial biofilms. After passing boards she began working at Guelph Veterinary Specialty Hospital, a private referral practice in Ontario; also travelling back to Prince Edward Island to teach the veterinary students a few times a year. As of May 2018, she joined the team at the Atlantic Veterinary College as an assistant professor and established the first-ever Dermatology service at AVC. She has lectured all over North America and has contributed to multiple journals and textbooks. She is also currently the treasurer for the Canadian Academy of Veterinary Dermatology.

Elizabeth Goodale

DVM, Dipl. ACVD

Dr. Elizabeth Goodale received her veterinary degree from the University of Guelph and completed her dermatology residency at the University of California, Davis. After passing her dermatology boards in 2016, she worked as a clinical dermatologist at the UC Davis Veterinary Medical Teaching Hospital for two years, before returning to Canada. She currently practises in Morriston, Ontario. She is also the chair of the credentials committee for the American College of Veterinary Dermatologists (ACVD) and the editor-in-chief of the bulletin for the Canadian Academy of Veterinary Dermatology (CAVD).

Becky Valentine

DVM, Dipl. ACVD

Dr. Valentine was born and raised in Calgary and completed her Doctor of Veterinary Medicine from the Western College of Veterinary Medicine in 2001. After completing a rotating small animal internship at Ontario Veterinary College in 2002, Becky spent several years as an emergency veterinarian before returning to school to complete a residency in dermatology at the OVC. It was during her residency that she came to understand the profound impact that skin diseases and allergies can have on a pet and their family. She became board-certified in Veterinary Dermatology in 2015, and has made a huge difference in the lives of pets and their owners ever since. Becky's interests include the treatment of antibiotic-resistant skin infections and the diagnosis and management of allergic dermatitis in small animals and horses.
